We found a black and white long haired kitty meowing and shivering last night in Wappingers. It is extremely friendly (it let my husband pet it and then pick it up which is how we brought it inside). The first night, it really wanted to come inside, but was too scared. I fed and watered the kitty and left a warm place to stay. It came back today and again, I fed it. It is very picky about dry food, so

I’m assuming it is someone’s house cat.
