My boyfriend Trevor and I were driving on 212 on our way to Mt. Overlook toward Woodstock when we saw a dog running on the right side of the road. We did not have any service on our cell phones to place a call to the police or dog warden for the area. We did not see anyone on the road looking for a lost pet. We were the only car on the road too. We pulled over and she quickly jumped up and wanted to get inside. We decided to let her in the backseat of our car. We then drove up and down to see if we could see anyone looking for her. We didn't find anyone. Her collar says her name is Jay-Lynn. She looks like a pit mix. She is extremely friendly and well behaved. We have placed reports with the warden for that specific area, Paulo, and he put out calls to officers in that area to see if they got any reports of a missing pet. We are taking good care of her and trying the hardest to find her rightful owners.
