Hi, our little Kodi got out of my neighbors yard in Maybrook, NY yesterday. We were at JFK about to leave for vacation. My husband went back home to look for him. He is a Westie/Maltese mix, we think. He is white with light brown on his back. He is timid and will most likely bark or run away if someone comes near. He's 13lbs. He has on a light blue and orange collar with a tag with our number on it. He also has a chip. I was trying to figure out how to post on your page on fb please help. We are afraid for him and are desperate to find him.
