Please help. Last seen at 5 PM March 26. He is 13 1/2 years old and is a house cat all his life. He is very friendly may seem shy at first. He will not bite or scratch and he will let you pick them up. I don't know what breed he is. If I would have to compare it would be an American bobtail with the exception of him being all white and having a black spot on his shoulder and on his head.
