Hi–My full-grown altered male cat, Krishna, has not come home for three nights. We live in the tri-states area of Port Jervis, NY, on East Main Street. I'm hoping he's just out enjoying the spring-like weather, but he's never stayed out like this before. Please let me know if you see him, or if he's decided to adopt another person as he did me. He's usually pretty good at hiding and not letting strangers near him, since he was feral when I met him.
