My two cats were stolen out of my home by someone who wanted me to suffer. I had done a lot of research and I figured out that they would have been dropped off around the seven lakes. I have tirelessly put up flyers and yesterday I had gotten a call that one of my cats were found dead. I identified his body last night and brought him home with me. However, one of my cats is still out there. Ray – who is Grey and White. Lovely, sweet, outgoing personality. Loves people.
