I have this adorable petite skinny kitty at my house. I say she but I don't know. She was originally at my neighbors (showed up out of nowhere from what I heard). She's absolutely adorable, sweet and begs for love. Incredibly upsetting, my sister said she doesn't have front claws. By the looks of her tail she was groomed. Her fur is growing back. One of our boys has gone after her twice. I’m feeding her morning, noon and night.
