We moved to a new area and a friend of ours was taking care of him during the move. The day after we dropped him off, he ran away. My mom is devastated. And I feel horrible... please help us.

He's sort of a Tabby/Manx mix, white paws, white chest, pink nose. A little chubby but not too fat. His front metacarpal pads are black, while his back ones are both pink. All of his digital pads are pink. Tail ends in black. Reward will be given to whoever finds him.
