1-2 year old tortie, polydactyl (extra toes on every paw) cat found in Kingston (on Clinton near Henry and Cedar). She is not chipped, spayed, and likely not vaccinated (though we gave her first doses of rabies and distemper). She has fleas and a bacterial infection in her ears (both being treated). All of these signs indicate she is a stray or otherwise not being cared for, but just in case we wanted to check if she had an owner who was missing her. She's super sweet albeit a bit timid, and seems to have been at least somewhat socialized with humans. If no owner claims her in the next few days we will be adopting her out (as we can't keep her with our current cat).
