Frost is a very skittish calico cat. She just over a year old. She ran out of the house last night when I was bringing in the dog. I rescued her about 7 months ago with her sister. They have been bonded since birth and Frost needs to come back to her sister. Over the past month she just started trusting me. She would rub up on my leg and I was able to pet her but not pick her up. I would love to be reunited with my Frosty and she can complete our family!
