??PINKY??

??????????????????????

Attention friends and neighbors in Athens, NY.
Pinky has been missing since Thursday evening. She weighs about 9lbs and was wearing a pink rhinestone collar. She is an indoor cat who has been chipped. She is usually very outgoing and people-friendly. On Thursday night she and her sister Leather climbed out of a third story window which I had opened not realizing someone had put the screen up. Leather was waiting for me by the door but Pinky was nowhere to be seen.

If you spot her please d.m. me or email me at

I've put her bed outside along with food and water that the neighborhood strays seem to have enjoyed overnight.
