His name is Brooster. On Wednesday he went out from home to play but got lost. I contacted leasing office to view the cameras but hey haven't called me back. He is domestic short hair with light yellow fur. He was always lovely and cuddly, and he started to walk around my apt and meow at me to open the door for him weeks ago. So I didn't give a second thought. I don't think he ever wants to return to nature. Please help!
