LOST PET

Daisy from Armonk

Contact: (914) 530-4539

Location: Hunter Avenue

Date : September 23, 2021

My bird, Daisy, escaped Tuesday, September 21, 2021 from her cage while I was carrying her from my home in Yonkers, NY to my friend's house in Armonk, NY and she escaped from the cage. She is only a baby and small in size. I am worried for her safety and am completely devastated. I would love to have her back home and already miss her terribly. Please, if someone sees or spots her send me an e-mail right away. I will be so grateful and would appreciate it. Please help bring Daisy home, she must be terrified and confused. I love her so much. A reward is offered for her safe return. Thank you so, so much and I pray and hope Daisy comes home soon. Thank you! Description: Lost, Green Cheek Conure – Red Factor parrot bird, female, 10 months old. Red chest and tail feathers, green feathers on top, yellow down the side of her legs and side of body. Very friendly and sweet, trusting and affectionate. She is just a baby, we want her home so much and are heartbroken. She must be so scared.... please help ! Thank you so much.
