Hey, so this isn't really a lost pet situation. I've been running around in circles trying to find a wildlife rescue that will call me back or answer and I've tried everywhere from here to Albany and left messages. I found a hurt baby raccoon in the middle of the road that it just been hit by a car. A fox was actively circling it probably because it was injured and it was going to be its prey so I scooped him up, thinking I could get somebody to help me figure out where to rehabilitate him and it's been way more difficult than it should be and I really don't want to see this little guy die. He's still asleep and it looks like, he's paralyzed on the side of his body eating or drinking even when I'm trying to coax him into it. Please, he really needs help. I don't want to see him die. He doesn't deserve that he's a baby.
