Baby / “BeBe” is a very independent outdoor cat, about 8 years old. Her right ear was tipped after she was spayed years ago and is a little ragged. She has a patch of fur on her upper right hind leg that looks like regrowth after a possible injury of some kind. Also, even when resting, the tips of her claws are visible. She's skittish around humans but will come close to those she trusts. She was last seen around August 6 or 7 on Plymouth Rd in Dutchess Park, Fishkill where she has available shelter and food and water. She's fiercely independent with a gaze that looks like it can see deep into your soul. But can also be sweetly shy. And we love and miss her and her spirit.
