My wife and I took in a stray cat this past Friday that looked pregnant and she had been staying with us all weekend. Took her to the vet yesterday and she actually has a parasite causing severe bloating and is not pregnant. However the vet gave her meds and had us put her on a 24 hour fast to kill the parasite, I guess she got pissed that she was hungry and in the middle of the night broke out through our bathroom window (we have a window fan that's sandwiched by foam blocks and she pulled the foam blocks out). She's not microchipped but she did get some vaccines yesterday and is due back at the vet on Friday. Please call 917-579-3239 or 415-385-4391 if seen in the Kingston area!!
