This guy has been coming around my house for well over a year, however much more frequently recently. He is sweet but bites and scratches when getting excited. He is not neutered. He is a solid guy. Located around Jones Rd/Frontier Drive on Oregon Trail, Walker Valley/Pine Bush. Would love to confirm if he has a home and if not, perhaps someone can assist with TNR (I can help pay if needed). He does come up to our windows and our diabetic kitty is not a fan so they violently yell back and forth at 6am. I already have 5 indoor kitties who take outdoor harnessed walks but we have to hold on that for now since he is around so frequently
